N Brown partners with Maggie's Manchester as its charity of the year

N Brown Group, the online fashion retailer with a portfolio of brands including JD Williams, Simply Be and Jacamo, is pleased to announce a partnership with Maggie's Manchester as its charity of the year.

Colleagues at N Brown voted from a shortlist of local worthwhile charities last month, with Maggie's Manchester coming out on top. N Brown hopes to raise thousands for Maggie's Manchester throughout a series of fundraising events in the next twelve months and is kicking off their support for the charity with a launch day at their head office in Manchester this Friday.

Maggie's offers free practical, emotional and social support to anyone affected by any form of cancer, and their families and friends. Set in the grounds of The Christie Hospital, Maggie's Manchester opened in 2016. The Centre is a welcoming place for people to meet others or sit quietly, and offers the support of qualified professionals who help people find their way through the difficult cancer journey.

Angela Spindler, CEO at N Brown, commented: "Our colleagues have been supporting a range of charities over the years and as one of the oldest businesses in Manchester we have a long history of supporting local causes. I am delighted that Maggie's Manchester has been chosen as our charity partner and that our contribution will go towards helping the thousands of people who visit Maggie's each year."

Centre Head Sinead Collins commented: "I'd like to say a huge thank you to N Brown for choosing Maggie's Manchester as their charity of the year. Their efforts will allow us to continue to develop our unique, high quality programme of support to help people with cancer and their family and friends across Greater Manchester. We wish all the colleagues the very best of luck with all their fundraising which will make such a difference to so many people's lives."
